DIRTY LARRY

I saw "Dirty Harry" four times and read "Dirty Larry" eight times. The Tony Bennett caricature made the piece all the more enjoyable. Congratulations to Mort Drucker and Arnie Kogen!

Vince Garofalo
Van Nuys, Calif.

"Dirty Larry" was a disgrace to your fine magazine! When I saw "Dirty Harry," everyone in the theatre was rooting for the cop Clint Eastwood played, Harry Callahan. I think we should all hope that there are such cops to combat the criminals in this land.

Christopher Riley
N. Arlington, N.J.

Warner Brothers has been asking me to do a sequel to "Dirty Harry." Could you please write your story now so I could have something to go by. All of us here were absolutely knocked out with "Dirty Larry."

Clint Eastwood
Universal Studios
Universal City, Calif.

SNAPPY ANSWERS TO TV COMMERCIALS

After reading "Snappy Answers To Stupid Television Commercials," I'm finally satisfied that justice has caught up to those unbearable inanities. Thanks for the retribution!

Amelia Bailey
Toledo, Ohio

I tried your "Snappy Answers To Stupid TV Commercials." Thought I was gonna die! Took two Bromo-Seltzers.

Joe St. Lawrence
Norwalk, Conn.

LONGSHOT

Congratulations to writer Stan Hart for using good taste and a great sense of humor in doing the delicate "Longstreet" satire.

Patti Webb
Flint, Mich.

James Franciscus has done a remarkable piece of acting as "Longstreet," and MAD has created a remarkable piece of satire in "Longshot."

Barry Maffris
Chicago, Ill.

"Longshot" was out of sight!

WATER OVER THE DAMNED

During the recent flooding caused by hurricane Agnes in Pennsylvania, we had a foot of water in our basement. It completely destroyed a pile of rags and every single MAD magazine or book I owned. I'll miss those rags.

Ed Seitz

MAD "RELIGION IN AMERICA" PRIMER

I have been a fan and avid reader of MAD for many years, but have neglected to write. When everything is agreeable one usually finds himself content with just reading the material. But your "Religion Primer" compelled me to write, as it does such a good job of bringing to light the nonsense divisions and the petty prejudices of worship. Larry Siegel and Paul Coker certainly have mastered the art of presenting what can be a very touchy subject.

Arnold H. Beerenstrauch
DeWitt, Nebraska

I laughed when you satirized family life. I chuckled when you satirized entertainment. I roared when you satirized politics. But now you've gone too far. Your "Religion In America" was not funny at all. Actually, the sections on Judaism and Roman Catholics were pretty funny, but not the part about Protestants!

Rev. Everett L. Taylor
Phoenix, Arizona

As a Reform Jew and Unitarian Universalist turned Roman Catholic, I enjoyed your "Religion Primer." It made me proud to be an American, while your apt Fold-In, assailing Major Medical Expenses, made me feel ashamed to be one.

Ellen A. Lewis
Brookline, Mass.

Aw, come on! Your "Religion Primer" was hilarious, but I come from a Catholic family of not 50, not 35, not even 26, but only 2 (count 'em!) children. Amazing? No baby, we got Rhythm! Of course, being Black may have something to do with it!

Ann Plicque
New Orleans, La.

Might I remind you that it was Jesus Christ who started this whole thing about Peace and Love! You seem to think of religion as a farce...

Jim Douglas
St. Louis, Mo.

Your "Religion Primer" is accurate and funny. I've recommended it to my congregation. I wish you would devote more space to religion, in general, and The Church, in particular. The humor in our faith and practice are evident. Too often we're too up tight to recognize it and laugh. Our lack of humor may be a sign of real trouble in religion.

The Rev. Russell Block
Union, N.J.

Regarding your "Religion Primer," you have said, in five pages, what Christ said, what Martin Luther King tried to say, and what too few people in this world are saying. You couldn't have been more right! Congratulations, MAD!

James Crescitelli
Brooklyn, N.Y.

MINGO KEEPS HIM SMILING

I would like to extend my praise to Norman Mingo who has been doing your different and imaginative covers for years. He draws a better Alfred than anybody else.

Isabel Kraut

PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER-R-R-R!

Whereas Alfred's immutable smile is covered up on the front of issue #153, I think he's just as happy he didn't throw his battered hat into the ring. Though rejected as a Presidential candidate, I'll bet he's still laughing on the inside!

Joanne D'Alcomo

BERG'S "SUMMER ACTIVITIES"

My compliments to Dave Berg for "Summer Activities." Especially the one about the boy who had fun in the Fall, and had to make it up in Summer school. I'm writing this in Summer school.

MARTIN'S MUSICAL MAYHEM

Don Martin's fine "The Development Of Primitive Music" reminded me so much of our school orchestra's first practice of the school year. For that matter, it reminded me of our school orchestra's last concert of the school year!

Doug Holmes
Denver, Colo.

JAFFEE & FOLD-IN HONORED

I thought you'd swell with pride upon seeing a photo I took at the recent National Cartoonists Society Awards. The man on the left, holding the emblematic Reuben trophy is Milton Caniff, creator of "Steve Canyon." And the gentleman on the right is MAD's own Al Jaffee, holding his Special Category Award. Naturally, Al received this honor in due recognition of his "MAD Fold-In" feature, the cleverly teasing "fake-out" which he has perpetuated in MAD these past eight years.

Hey, Gang!
Tired of all the garbage they're showing on motion picture screens
lately?
Well,
here's a
"Family"
film for a change!
And now,
meet the
"Family":

This is Don Vino Minestrone. Not too long ago, he was just a poor immigrant from Sicily. Now he's a leading racketeer, extortionist and killer. How did Don Vino get where he is today? By putting his faith in The American Way of Life.

Here's Mama Minestrone, a typical lovable Sicilian housewife. It seems like only yesterday at another wedding that Mama herself said, "I do!" Come to think of it, that was the last time she opened her mouth.

This is Don Vino's daughter, Canny, and her bridegroom, Carly. Such a nice couple. Everyone is saying that Don Vino is not really losing a daughter. No, actually, in this kind of Family, he'll probably lose a Son-in-law.

And so, with such a strange family and such weird children,

THE ODD

This is some swell wedding!

It's
Social event of 1945!

Everybody who is anybody in organized crime is here!

Look!
Here comes
the Odd
Father!

They say he's the biggest Mafia leader in the country!

Hey, you! I'm with the Italian Anti-Defamation League! Don't you know you're not supposed to use the word "MAFIA" in this picture?!

Sorry! Er—they say he's the biggest Italian racketeer and murderer in the country!

That's much better!

This is Sinny Minestrone, the Don's eldest son. He's next in line, and it's only a matter of time before he gets the Family business. That is, of course, unless a rival Family decides to give him the business first.

This is the Don's second son, Freako. He's a sad, gentle soul. He cries at weddings and all kinds of Family crises. But he can also be a barrel of laughs. Just catch him at a funeral some time.

This is Tim Haven, the Don's adopted son. He's shrewd and smart. All his life, he dreamed of being a criminal lawyer. But he only finished half of his education—the "criminal" part.

And this is Micrin, the Don's youngest son. He's a college graduate, a veteran war hero, an honest law-abiding citizen—and a disgrace to the entire Family.

it's easy to see why Don Vino Minestrone is known as...

FATHER

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER
WRITER: LARRY SIEGEL

What a fantastic make-up job they've done on Marlin Brandow! How did they ever get him to look so OLD?

Very simple! They made him watch his last four movies, and he aged 20 years!

I still can't believe it's Marlin Brandow!

Mumble mumble mumble mumble

It's Marlin Brandow, all right!!

...IT IS YOUR HONOR TO INVITE ME TO YOUR DAUGHTER'S BRIS...

Papa, I'm so happy on my Wedding Day! Why aren't you happy too? Why do you look so pained?!!

You think it's easy to see your little girl grow up? You think it's easy to give her away to another man? You think it's easy to talk with eight pounds of cotton in your cheeks?

But you talk like that WITHOUT cotton in your cheeks!

I've been worried about Plotzo ever since I refused to bankroll his narcotics operation! I think there's gonna be bloodshed between his Family and ours!

Maybe you shouldn't be walking the streets like this, Papa!

What could possibly happen to me here on Mulberry Street in New York? Could I be harmed by that cute Italian fish peddler? By those sweet Italian kids, playing Hop-Scotch? By those nice Italian button men in their big black car... barreling down on me at 80 miles an hour? OH-OH!!

BLAM! BLAM!
RAT-TAT-TAT...
UGH...
CRASH!
GASP!
SCREEECH!
VROOOM!
EEEK!
HOLY COW!

He—he's DEAD! Did the hoods in that big black car gun him down?

Not exactly! I think they WANTED to! But when they got within 50 feet of him, a mugger who was stealing a woman's purse ran into the path of a highjacked truck going the wrong way on a "One-Way" street which swerved into a drug pusher's stolen motorcycle, and they all fell on top of him! In other words, he died of natural causes!

Natural causes?!

In New York, that's natural causes!

Hey, wait a minute! He's NOT dead after all! He's trying to speak!

What's he saying?

It's hard to tell! He's hurt so bad, he's talking through his nose!

I got news for you! He talks like that when he's NOT hurt, too!

What is it, Micrin?

I just got bad news! My Father is badly hurt! He's been lying in the street for three days!

Why don't they put him in the hospital?

He won't tell them his Blue Cross number!

I've heard of the Mafia keeping secrets, but that's ridiculous!

Thank God we finally got him into the hospital! How is he, Doctor?

Well, he's retching! And he's coughing! And he's gasping for breath! And he's moaning a lot!

He's fighting for his life?!

No, he's fighting for an "Oscar"!

Whew! I almost blew it! Oh, boy, am I scared! Now, where's that gun? Where did they stash it? Maybe they left a message telling me where it's hidden? Oh, here's something written on the wall! It says, "Here I sit, broken-hearted ..." No, that's not it!

Got it!! Okay, now all I gotta do is remember what they taught me ... Walk out calmly ... go up to Plotzo ... shoot him twice in the face ... drop the gun ... and leave! That's simple enough! Be calm ... be cool ... and above all, DON'T PANIC!!

SHRIEK!!
AAAAHH! SHREIK!!
SCREEEAMM!

TAKE THAT, PLOTZO, YOU &¢%$*#!

What happened?

Looks like he shot everybody in the place!

How did HE get it?

Natural causes?!

Some maniac came out of the Men's Room firing a gun!

Everybody but HIM!!

From complications brought on by eating too much scungilli, veal parmigiana and lasagna! In other words ... he died of natural causes!

In an Italian restaurant, that's natural causes!

It's great to have you home again, Papa! And I got good news for you! Micrin took care of Plotzo!

My little boy's first killing! I'm so proud of him! Remind me to have his gun bronzed!

Where is he now ... in Sicily ... waiting for the heat to die down?

No, in the bathroom, waiting for his stomach to die down!

You rotten &¢%$#! How can you serve me this lousy &¢%$#@! You know I wanted chicken tetrazzini, pepperoni, ravioli, vermicelli, manicotti and zabaglione!

I know!! ... But for breakfast?!

What's that, Canny?!? Carly beat you up again! That dirty &¢%$#! I'll kill him! Hold him till I get there! What? I don't know HOW! Hit him over the head or tie him up or something!

Wait! I got a better idea! Serve him a seven course Italian meal! He won't be able to move for five hours!

Why are we following Sinny...?

Don Minestrone suspects Carly is working for Linguini, and may be setting Sinny up! So we gotta protect him and... Oh-oh!! TOO LATE!!

Poor Sinny! Papa knew it would happen to him one of these days! Papa warned him so many times!

You mean the Don was right?? Those were Linguini's men in disguise??

No, they were real Toll Collectors! If Papa told him once, he told him a thousand times... Never go up to a toll booth with a twenty dollar bill!

I've called this meeting of the heads of all the Families because my heart is broken! My son, Sinny, is dead, and my boy, Micrin has been in exile in the bathroom for six months!

Gentlemen, never before have so many great and important people assembled together in one room! Between us, we control all of the nation's gambling, prostitution and narcotics traffic! In short... without US, this whole country would come to a standstill!

Well, I say it's time to get this country moving again! This war must end! We must stop destroying each other!

Instead, we must start destroying those plain, ordinary citizens again... like normal American businessmen! Agreed...?

Very good! Then let's seal this sacred agreement in our usual way!

Agreed!

Agreed!!

Okay!

I'm new in this outfit! Why is Don Minestrone kissing all the men?

It's a Sicilian gesture of friendship! He always does it!

No WONDER they call him the "Odd Father"!

C'mon, Linguini! This is no time to play coy!

Don't be shy! It's an old Sicilian custom!

You only have to kiss him! You don't have to marry him!

Well, okay! But only on ONE condition!

What's that?

You gotta promise you won't lose respect for me!

Hey, that Linguini can KISS!

Don't they make a nice couple?!

At last there is no more war between the Families, and now I can live to a ripe old age in peace!

You chase me, Grandpa ?

Of course I will chase you, Angie, my little Grandson! And then we will play some Mafia kiddie games like "Hide and Fink"... and "Cops and Good Guys"...

The Odd Father is dead! He suffered a heart attack chasing little Angie!

Oh... how awful!

You know... many people may disapprove of the kind of life the Odd Father led! But... all in all... he was a kind man, a gentle soul, a good-hearted person and a decent human being!

Did he say any last words before he died?

Yeah, he wants someone to lean on the KID!!

Boys, with Don Minestrone dead, I'm taking over as head of all the Families!

Not so fast, Linguini!

It—it's Micrin Minestrone! He's back from the bathroom!

He's beginning to ACT like the Odd Father!

Now... let's get things straight! I'm in charge here!

He's beginning to LOOK like the Odd Father!

And from now on, what I say goes! Do I make myself clear? mumble mumble mumble

He—he's even beginning to SOUND like the Odd Father!

And I've got plans... big plans! We're gonna make millions!

He IS the Odd Father!

Now here's what we're going to do! We're going "legit"! We're going into BUSINESS!

What business?

The Movie Business! We're going to make a movie! A movie about the greatest Folk Heroes in American History!

Who? The pioneers?

No, you idiots! We're going to make a movie about US!!

We're gonna make a movie about the MAFIA??

Well... we won't exactly refer to it as the Mafia! But it'll be about US!!

Can't you just see it now! Theater owners everywhere will show it... or ELSE!! Critics everywhere will love it... or ELSE! And people everywhere will be standing on lines, waiting to see it... or ELSE!!

Now, we'll start the movie off at my sister Canny's wedding! Then...

That's right, folks! The Smiths use oil to heat their home, and last year their heating bill was $1,245.00! The Joneses, who use electricity to heat their home, only spent $122.50 last year...

I sure hope nobody finds out that the Smiths live in Nome, Alaska, and the Joneses live in Miami, Florida!

Okay, men, the results of the "Blackout Poll" are in! We've got 19 votes to have it in the middle of "All In The Family"... 15 votes to have it during the last 10 minutes of "The Mystery Movie Of The Week"... and Bert Crocker wants it for two hours in the middle of the night so everybody's alarm is off and they're late for work the next morning and they're all fired!

Hey, Harry! Pick any four numbers from one to ten!

It's the meter reading I'm putting down on the Baxter's bill! I never got to their house last month!

We haven't gotten one of those nasty letters from Mrs. Nickerson for several months! I think I'll credit her payment to the Johnson's again!

Okay! 7-8-3-2! What are they for?

I really don't think they're letting the new guys spend enough time learning how to splice wires!

Okay, Gentlemen! Here's our Advertising Campaign for this year: We'll sponsor five big million-dollar TV Specials, run full page ads in every newspaper and magazine in the country, and send out fancy color brochures with every bill! And our new theme will be: "Your Electric Company Spends Its Money Wisely!"

Did you hear the good news? We've just been authorized a $750,000 tax write-off so we can modernize our equipment!

Great! We'll put a new bar in the Executive Cocktail Lounge, expand the Executive Swimming Pool, and build a new Indoor Executive Parking Facility!

I'm new here!
How come the Electric Company
pushes "cordless appliances?"

Because after you run one, it takes twice as much electricity to recharge it as it would've taken to run a regular appliance for the same length of time!

PORTABLE!

The water enters the nuclear generator here, cools the atomic pile, and gets dumped back into the river there!

But doesn't the heated water
affect the ecology?

Naah! It kills a few fish and plants and birds! But it doesn't affect the ecology at all!

We got the authorization from Washington! We can increase our monthly rates by $175,000!

That's not so much!

Per block???

We gotta be seen lurking around this neighborhood for another week! There are still a few holdouts who refuse to leave their lights on all night to ward off crime!

Our effective control of pollution is down 43%! Our uninterrupted service to customers is down 52%! And our efficiency is down 61%! What should we do?

Raise
our

Hey, how come you set up the

We know! But we

SPEECH-EASY DEPT.

MAD has received a lot of mail lately from readers who complain that the high cost of campaigning has prevented them from running for office in this year's elections. We, of course, assume that anybody who reads MAD isn't qualified anyway. Still, it seems un-

American to bar idiots from politics just because they're poor. So we're rushing to the aid of poverty-stricken candidates with "MAD's Instant Speech Writer", designed to eliminate the cost of hiring an expensive genius to compose your campaign oratory.

Naturally, many candidates hesitate to use Instant Phrases dealing with specific issues for fear that their statements will be mistakenly construed as advocating or opposing something. Then, too, many lack the intelligence to memorize all the Instant Phrases they need to speak out forcefully on a variety of subjects they don't understand. To help elect these mental deficients, a list of "Instant Phrase Political Platitudes" has been prepared. All are guaranteed to win applause, and none can result in embarrassing demands for clarification later. Oh-oh! The train's stopped. It's another one of those lousy delays! WHAT THE HECK AM I GOING TO DO TO PASS THE TIME??

Read your newspaper!

I can't! After twenty-five years of commuting, there's only one way I can read a newspaper!

When my eyeballs are jiggling!!

Busing kids from one neighborhood school to another in an attempt to affect an artificial kind of integration is not only ridiculous, it's DANGEROUS!!

It's an invitation to violence, riots and insurrection!

What are you—some kind of bigoted reactionary?

No, I'm a school bus driver!

Wow! Is she ever built! Boy, would I like to try making it with her! Please, God . . . let her sit down next to me! Please, God . . . please . . .

She—she DID it! She sat down next to me! Oh, thank you, God . . . thank you!

Hi, there! I don't remember seeing you on this train before!

I usually take an earlier train! But if I knew guys like you were on this one, I'd change my schedule!

HEY, NICK BABY! LONG TIME NO SEE! HOW'S THE WIFE AND KIDS???

MUTING

ARTIST & WRITER: DAVE BERG

Will you take a look at that?! Is it any wonder we've got so many traffic jams, and so many exhaust pipes polluting the air?!? Go ahead and take a good look!!

In nearly every one of those big cars, there's only ONE PERSON! Why can't they get together and organize car pools and cut down on this heavy traffic and its pollution?!? Why, I ask you...?

Gee, I gotta break this awful habit of talking to myself!

I finally beat the "2-Car Family" syndrome! I bought myself a bicycle! It cost me a small fortune, but it was worth it! Now, I pedal to the station!

Why should a bicycle cost a small fortune?

'Cause it's one of the lightest bikes made! It's got a magnesium frame! Pick it up! You won't believe it!

LIGHT?!? It almost gave me a hernia! It weighs a TON!!

Oh, that's not the bike!

To keep such an expensive bike from being stolen, I've got to carry around these locks and chains...

THEY weigh a TON!!

Oh, God... why did you do this to me?

Roger Kaputnik! You ol' son of a gun! So you finally left the city and moved out to the suburbs! What ever made you do a thing like that?

I wanted to get away from the crowds!

Well, it's about time! Why are you late?

Don't blame me! The school bus was way behind schedule!

That's terrible! Why was the school bus way behind schedule?

Some kid was very late arriving at the bus stop!

That's awful! Who was it?

NOW you can blame me!

When I was a little kid, we were so poor we had to live in the BACK of the STORE! My parents merely had to take one step through the door to go to work!

That was a lot of years—and a lot of stores—ago! Today, I live in a magnificent home way out in the suburbs! Now, I drive my Cadillac to the station, park it for a buck—

—and board a high-speed commuter train for a 55 minute ride to Grand Central Station where I grab a cab to the huge Department Store I own!

Well, it's obvious that the more successful you are——the further you have to go from the BACK of the STORE!

Dammit t' hell! Another traffic tie-up! Nothing's moving for miles!

If driving to work every morning is so exasperating, why not take a train?

Because I love to DRIVE!

Then what are you complaining about?

SO WHO'S DRIVING!?!?

The fares have gone up, Sir!

WHAT AGAIN?!?

Yes, Sir! Again! But this time, there'll be an improvement in service!

HAH! That I'd like to see!

You will, Sir! In fact, today! You know the 7:40 train . . . ?

Do I ever?! It's always a HALF HOUR LATE!!

Well, today it's only going to be TWENTY MINUTES late!

Will you look at that?!? Every morning on the same train, the same three guys sit there playing cards!

What would you have them do?

They could discuss business or read a paper or talk about the world situation!

They could work out crossword puzzles! They could read books. I don't know! Anything would be better than playing a stupid game like three-handed Pinochle!

Like they could invite ME to play four-handed Bridge!!

Like what, f'rinstance?

I lived in the suburbs for years! I went through the whole hassle of commuting! Driving to the station ... catching the 8:14 ... then taking the subway uptown!

By the time I'd reach the office, I'd be so tired I'd fall asleep at my desk!

So I moved back to the city, got an apartment close to my place of business, and every morning now, I take a nice brisk twenty-minute walk to the office! What a difference from that commuting!

ZZZZZZZZ!

Hey, Milt! What in heck are you doing here in the smoking car?!? I thought you gave up cigarettes!

I did!

Then what are you doing here?

Just testing my will power! I've been riding in this smoking car for over half an hour now, with an unlit cigarette in my mouth! How's THAT for strength!?

Well, congratulations! You certainly have fantastic self-control! Milt, you deserve a reward for that! What can I give you ... ?

A light!

Hi, Jerry? What are you doing at the Commuter Bus Stop so early?

My Old Lady's been laid off and things are bad! I gotta get a job! There's none here, so I gotta try the City! Man, I'm desperate! Desperate!

Welcome to the Commuting World! Let me brief you on what it's like! Waiting for the bus, you'll freeze in Winter, broil in Summer and get soaked when it rains all year 'round! Then, when the bus finally comes, you won't always get a seat! You may have to stand up all the way into the City!

If you DO get a seat, it'll probably be over the wheel where you'll feel every bump! And you'll suffocate from exhaust fumes! And coming home at night—

Hey! Where you going?

Forget it, Man! I'm not THAT desperate!

HIYA
THERE,
CHARLIE
BABY!

Oh, darn! I'm so pooped,
I was going to take a nap going home! Now, here comes big-mouthed
Sidney Bupkiss!

Man, what a day!
Like everything happened! I'm not just beat—
I'm beaten!

Yawn!
I know just how —yawn—
you feel!

I see YOU'RE pooped, TOO!
I'm not keeping
you awake, am I?

Oh, no!
Yawn!
Not at all!

ZZZZ

ARE!!

Watch who you're pushing,
Buster!

OWW! Don't hit me, Lady! It's not my fault! Blame
it on INERTIA!

Then I'll hit HIM, too!!

Well, today is my last 8:12
into the city!
My retirement
begins tomorrow!

YOU?!? But you're a steam engine of energy!

I've seen you on the golf course and on the tennis court! No one can keep up with you! What's this about retiring?! You're not too old to work!!

To work . . . no!

To commute . . . YES!

I swear,
every year
this lousy railroad gets worse!

Let's face it!
The 8:55 just isn't coming!
Neither is
the 9:15!

Well, we've got to find other means to get to the city!

I guess I'll drive in!
I guess I'll
take the bus!

Not me! I'm not deserting a friend just because it's become old and run-down and decrepit! I'm going to stick to the railroad!

In the beginning, those pesky mail order gift companies seemed satisfied to squeeze a few dollars out of each of us at Christmas time. But soon, their catalogues began cluttering up our mail boxes in late summer, urging us to do our Christmas shopping early. Now, fearful that we may spend our off-season savings on mere necessities of life, their apparent plea is, "Do your Christmas shopping all year round." As evidence, we've selected one of the 23 we received just last week, and we herewith reprint a typical . . .

ONE DAY AT THE PHOTOGRAPHER'S

SPORTS-BLASTER DEPT.

This ode to his favorite Monday night commentator is a good example of the type of idiocy MAD sports freak, Frank Jacobs, is offering in his all-new paperback, "MAD About Sports." So consider yourself warned about this "Humor In A Jock-ular Vein."

HOWARD AT THE MIKE

(with apologies to Ernest Lawrence Thayer)

ARTIST: JACK DAVIS

WRITER: FRANK JACOBS

It looked extremely dismal
for the TV fans that night;
The game was dull in color,
even worse in black-and-white;
So, when Dallas missed three field goals and the Vikings couldn't score,
The viewers rightly muttered that the contest was a bore.

Up in the booth was Gifford, botching up the play-by-play,
While Dandy Don beside him barely had a thing to say;
They tried their hand at making jokes,
but anyone could tell
They sorely missed the Gabby One,
the talker named Cosell.

But Howard had a cold that night
and couldn't make the game;
'Twas clear without his acid tongue
the show was not the same;
Throughout the land from coast to coast
the viewers fumed and frowned;
A few, in fact, expressed the thought of turning off the sound.

The network switchboard buzzed with calls
—nine-tenths of them irate—
“We want Cosell,” fans screamed, “for he’s the man we love to hate!”
The network brass behind the scenes looked outwardly quite calm, Though inwardly each bigwig knew the evening was a bomb.

Then early in the second half
there rose a mighty cheer;
It thundered through the broadcast booth and echoed far and near;
It warmed the hearts of network brass
and cameramen alike,
For Howard, gabby Howard,
was advancing to the mike.

His nose was red from sneezing fits,
his throat was raw and sore;
A headache racked his brow with pain;
his joints ached even more;
His cough was like the wheezing
of an ancient Greyhound bus,
Despite great use of Contac pills and Alka-Seltzer Plus.

He flashed a silken handkerchief
and gave his nose a blow,
Then made his way across the booth
to watch the play below;
He coolly scanned the first-half stats
to see which men had played,
Then jotted down the key mistakes
each quarterback had made.

"He's back!" exclaimed the TV fans,
as Gifford broke the news,
"The game won't be a bore at all with him to give his views!"
And then the nation settled back to hear the pithy quips, Those rich and rolling phrases which would fall from Howard's lips.

There was pride in Howard's bearing as he took his seat on high;
There was ease in Howard's manner
as he loosened up his tie;
And neither of his colleagues could dispute the awesome truth
That the power of his presence could be felt throughout the booth.

A glint has come to Howard's eyes,
his tongue is poised to strike;
His hand is raised to make a point,
he leans into his mike;
And now we feel the fury of that mighty mind of his—
And now the air is shattered as he tells it like it is.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land
there is a happy place
Where folks are watching re-runs of "I Spy" and "Lost In Space";
And somewhere there are TV sets
around which folks rejoice;
But there is no joy in football
—gabby Howard's lost his voice.

ONE DAY AT A SEANCE

Television may have an excuse for putting on all those unrealistic Medical Shows and unrealistic Police Shows and unrealistic Lawyer Shows and unrealistic Western Shows. After all, Television writers don't have any first-hand experience at being Doctors or Cops or Lawyers or Cowboys. But what's the alibi when Television puts on an unrealistic Comedy about Television? We're talking about the show that took that down-to-earth gal from the old "Dick Van Dyke Show," put her into an idiotic Television situation, and came up with the same old garbage...even though it was Somebody just robbed the bank next door of a million dollars, and five innocent bystanders were shot!

Hey! Don't bother me with your problems! Can't you see I'm trying to write a newscast!

And can't you see I'm busy just standing around acting stupid? That's what a TV News Anchor Man does, you know!

Mary! It's your job to keep crackpots out of this office... especially crackpots who don't even WORK here!

I'm sorry, Mr. Grunt! But this IS a Newsroom, and he probably thought we'd WANT to cover a big story like that!

Are you crazy?!? In all the time you've worked here, have we ever covered ANY story?!?

No, sir! And I've wondered about that! How DO we get out news??

What a dumb question!! Come into my office so I can throw one of my hilarious tantrums while I answer it!

Mary... you just don't understand TV Journalism! Blurry writes the news for Klod to mispronounce so I can yell at him! It's as simple as that!

But we don't have any reporters or teletypes or...

Hoo-boy! You just don't understand TV Comedy either! Did John Chancellor ever get a belly laugh reading a funny teletype?!? Did Walter Cronkite ever do a boffo sketch from Cape Kennedy?!?

Besides! If we covered crime stories, we'd be just like "Mannix", or "Ironside"! And the one thing I'll never stand for on this show is VIOLENCE!!

I'm sorry! I've been a terrible fool!

That's the way I like to hear you talk!

Now, do all those cute, efficient little chores that make me so dependent on you!

Like dusting off your typewriter so you can start working?

No, like dusting off my bottle so I can start drinking!

Let me change into another Christian Dior original first! I want to be among the world's ten best dressed $92-a-week office flunkies!

BIG SISTER IS WATCHING

Did you hear good old Lou screaming at Mary? What a great guy to work for!

Really the salt of the earth!

A truly beautiful person! Er—why do we always have to say these nice things when we're all scared to death of him?

That's obvious! How else would the TV audience know that anybody with such a lousy disposition was so lovable?!

Gee, Mary You sure know how to dress!

This old thing? Nonsense! Now, where's that nice fella who came in to tell us about the bank robbery?

He left ... just like Lou screamed at him to do!

What? Without trying to get my phone number—or asking me for a date?!? NOBODY does that!

Hey, Mr.! You! Come back here! I'm not finished with you!!

What's the matter? Are you just shy ... or some kind of creep?!

No excuses! Every man who comes in here tries to make out with me! Didn't you read your contract?

None! I just wanted to see that look of passion in your eyes!

Please, lady! I got a wife and six kids!

Okay! You win! What evening are you free?

Weren't you kind of rough on that poor guy?

Probably! But being unmarried and over thirty, I need reassurance that I'm still desirable! Otherwise, I tend to wave my arms in neurotic gestures of desperation!

Really? I hadn't noticed!

Well, astute viewers have!

Which reminds me ... Did I get any personal calls?

Naturally! A guy you haven't seen since college phoned to threaten suicide unless you marry him! And the King of Sweden wants you to fly over for lunch! And Richard Burton will stop by if he can ditch Liz! So stop waving your arms around!

It's time for my complete 11 A.M. wardrobe change!

Made up any news for tonight, yet, Blurry?

How about a train wreck outside Cleveland with forty people killed? They're always popular!

Okay! Only put it outside Ashtabula! We always get bigger laughs with towns that Klod can't pronounce!

Right! And I'll give the railroad a real funny name, too!

Hi! I'm back again! Any more calls for me, Blur?

Yeah! Paul Newman phoned to say he will look you up when he's in town! And the guys in your night school voted you "Queen of the Computer Programmers' Homecoming!"

Does she really get all those calls from men?

No, but with YOUR childish tantrums, who needs her going into hysterics, too?

Better send a reporter over to Union Station! Twenty people were just killed in a train wreck!

Yeah?! Well, Mr. Smarty-Pants, we just thought up our own train wreck with FORTY people killed! How about that?!

Yoo-hoo! Sorry, I can't join you for lunch, but I'm dated up for a solid month!

Cheez! The whole bunch of 'em's crazy!

Mr. Grunt, do you think I should wear my new sable skiing this weekend... or my new mink? Or maybe the leopard... or the beaver... or—

Mary, how can you afford to buy all those clothes each week on the $92 I pay you and still have money left for necessities?

Easy! With that salary, I'm eligible for Government Food Stamps!

Hi, everybody! And speaking of my Jewish childhood in the Bronx... our apartment was so small, the mice were hump-backed! We could only be robbed by dwarf burglars! And take my Mother... please!

Hey, Mary! Somebody here to see you!

Who is it?

My guess is Henny Youngman in drag!

Want to go to lunch, Mary?

I'd love to, Rodent, but I sorta promised the King of Sweden! And Richard Burton and Paul Newman have been phoning! And—

It's okay, Mary! They all called back and postponed it until tomorrow!

Oh, darn! That makes 217 days in a row!

You don't have to pack a bag, Mary! We're only going downstairs to the coffee shop!

Well, you don't expect me to wear what I've got on for a whole hour, do you?

Mr. Grunt, meet my ugly friend, Rodent Droopstern! Notice how much less popular she is than me!

Hi! And speaking of my Jewish childhood in the Bronx, our idea of going to camp was sleeping on the fire escape for two weeks! We never heard of Cowboys and Indians! We played Slumlords and Tenants!

Pleased to meet yuh, Henny!

I don't care if people are staring! I just can't wear this same outfit for the whole trip down from the twelfth floor!

Hi, there! I'm Brute Trueblood, the new Sportscaster on the "Six O'clock News"!

Oh, wow! You're a MAN, aren't you?!!
Can't you tell?

Yeah! But if you believe this show's premise, I've never seen one up close before!

I'm here, now, fella! So you can stop boring yourself stiff talking to my homely friend!

Gasp! Why... you... you stepped out of a dream! You're sweeter than roses in May! A trip to the moon on gossamer wings!

Boy, it's lucky he reads his contract and boned up on Hit Parade "oldies"! If she started flapping her arms in this crowded elevator, somebody could get killed!

Mary, why is your station the only one that never covers the news?

Go ask Mr. Grunt! He's still got two chairs left to smash up while he tells you!

What a sweet guy! Er—does he always strap new employees to the water cooler and give them twenty lashes?

No! When he's in a bad mood, he makes them hang by their thumbs from the sprinkler system!

Speaking of my Jewish childhood in the Bronx, what has four wheels and lies on its back? A dead bus! Where does a gorilla sleep? Any place it wants to!

I know I'm irresistible, but won't we attract attention holding hands like this?

Yes, but we'll attract even more attention if I let go and you begin that nutty arm-waving again!

First, a three-hour lunch . . . and now you want to go home on company time just to change clothes?! Listen, every person in that newsroom has a vital public service to perform and—

But I'm expecting a package at home, too! A bottle of Scotch from a friend abroad!

SCOTCH?!?

Grab your coats, everybody!! We're all going to a party at Mary's place!!

Gee, Mary sure has done a lot with this place!

I'll say! Er—what style of decorating would you call this "Early Saks Fifth Avenue"?

No . . . "Lord & Taylor Modern"!

Hi! I'm Chillus, Mary's bird-brained neighbor! I just stopped by for my weekly cameo spot so the audience can see how much common sense Mary has compared to my craziness!

Swell! She's in her room, compulsively changing her clothes for the fourth time since the show began—and you think YOU'RE loony!

But I follow the advice of far out psychology books to raise my bratty child! How that for craziness?

Then get this! In real life, I won an Oscar this year for my dramatic ability, but I'm still wasting my talent on this crummy TV show!

Only so-so!

Now, that's what I call craziness!

Okay, gang! This is the weekly scene where I get to show off my legs!

Every dame around here is batty!

Don't be a prude, Mr. Grunt! Lots of girls wear tennis skirts that are that short!

In Minneapolis . . . in FEBRUARY?!?

Hey, what say I write a story for tonight's news about a woman having eight babies?

Okay, but make it a Spaniel having eight puppies! I don't hate dogs as much as children!

Why are you going back to the newsroom, Rodent? You don't work there!

So!!? From what I've seen, nobody ELSE works there either!

MINNEAPOLIS'S BLAY (C)
MONSTER LOOSE IN CITY

Hey! Our news ranked first last Tuesday in the Nielsen ratings!

Mary! Get last Tuesday's script out of the file! We'll have Klod read it again tonight!

B-but is that right? Won't somebody notice if we re-run old news?

Can't you ever learn? When a TV show is popular, you always keep doing the exact same thing until the people get sick of it!

STERNO

Maybe Mary's right! Dragging out an old news script to use again might be a bad idea!

I know that! But I needed some excuse to get her to bend over the bottom file drawer in that short skirt!

Say, if you're looking for Mary, you've already missed the best part!

When you give her the flowers, be sure to threaten to jump out the window and spill your guts all over the sidewalk if she won't marry you! She loves that kind of sentimental sweet talk!

But I was planning to—I mean, these are for... uh—

See everybody?! I knew I was irresistible! Now, give me those flowers before your passionate hot hands make them wilt!

But I bought them to launch my big make-out campaign with Rodent!

RODENT?!?

Rodent WHO?

You idiot! You just blew it for all of us!
The whole bit! No more "Old Maid Jewish Rodent" jokes! No more "Homely Rodent" put downs! And worst of all, no more "Mary —The All-American Sweetheart" gimmick! I can't run a funny newsroom without them! We're finished! Kaput! Washed up! Through!

Gee, I'm sorry!
I never even realized! I just picked the one who was the least neurotic!
