MAD HELPS STUDENT ADJUST

I recently received an Alfred E. Neuman pin. As I tried to get it on my shirt, it gave me time to reflect. Two years ago I was a model student. My grades were superb and my conduct was excellent. I made the honor roll six times. Then I subscribed to MAD. Now, I'm scheduled to see the school psychiatrist three times a week. Thanks!

John Lowenthal Austin, TX

Johnno — We've let you down and we apologize...most of our subscribers end up going FIVE times a week! Thanks for writing, and don't forget the lithium! —Ed.

MAD MUMBLINGS

If a tree falls in the forest and hits Alfred on the head, will anybody care? — Adam Fleming, Bath, PA...Hey, I'm Jeff and I have a personality disorder. — Josh Amberson, Snohomish, WA...Oboes are cool. They rock! — Deb Falk, Highland Park, NJ...If you're not careful we'll put BGH in your milk! — Brad A. Novak, Greendale, WI...I know vegetables scream when you bite them! — Drew Beahm, Anderson, IN

"SPEED" BUMPED

Since I am a loyal fan of the movie Speed (I've watched it 11 times), I felt I should point out a mistake in issue #332's "Not Quite Up To Speed." In the movie, Howard Payne is missing a thumb. In fact, that's how the police found out who the bomber was. But the bomber in your satire has a thumb!

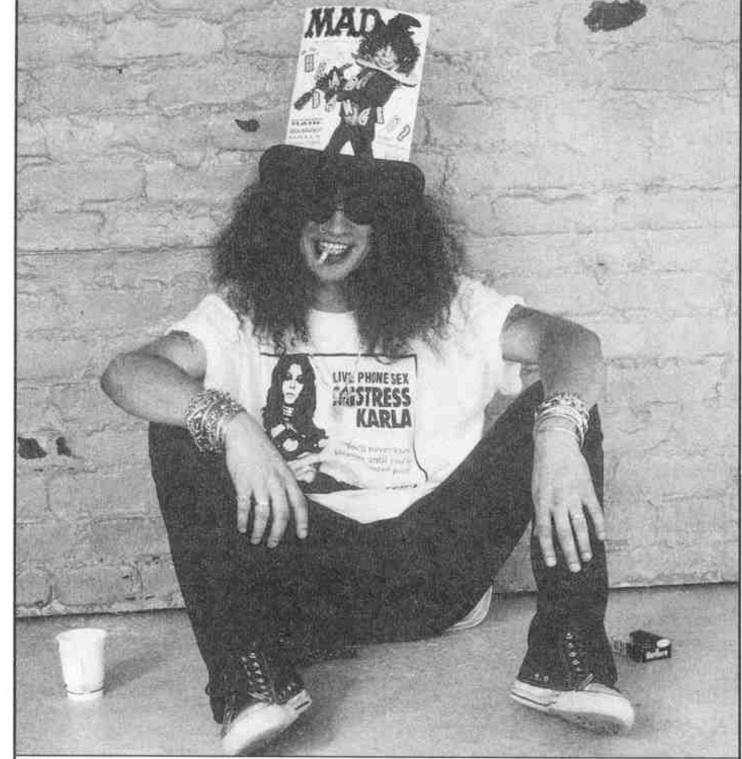

Nicole Wright Westminster, MD

Nicole — That wasn't a thumb! —Ed.

SLASH NOTES

To everybody at MAD Magazine, thanx for the most prestigious magazine cover I've ever been on! Incidentally, I've got a collection of MAD mags dating back to 1974! Anyway, it's an honor and I think it's VERY cool!

UNIVERSAL HEALTH SCARE

While in Oklahoma City this week for a TV program, I picked up a MAD Magazine to enjoy the lighter, satirical side of life. After reading MAD for more years than I care to admit, I found one which made me nauseated (MAD Fold-in, #331). Have you capitulated to the pressure of the "Clintonistas" and the liberal press? You depicted the NRA as a bully, ruffian, dishonest type of character. Do you desire "Gun Control" as did Hitler, Castro, Mao, et. al.? Have you forgotten that "Gun Control" is one of the ten steps for communist control listed in Karl Marx's Communist Manifesto?

John L. Sessions, D.O. Medical Director, Jasper County Medical Center Kirbyville, TX

Doc — Let's do a little "examination" of your vested interest in this thing. More guns on the street means more people shot. More people shot means more patients (and profits) for doctors. Hey! YOU'RE a doctor! Just think! If we give everyone in America a gun, you'll be able to get that third home in Boca Raton in no time! Physician, heal thyself! —Ed.

SAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Assuming that MAD artists Dave Berg and Angelo Torres had contributions in MAD #333, they will have both reached significant milestones: 300 consecutive issues for Berg and 200 appearances for Torres! Congratulations!

Mike Slaubaugh Mansfield, OH

Mike — Actually, we're sorry you made public these MAD milestones. As many MAD insiders know, Berg and Torres have been bitter, bitter enemies for years. Your note pointing out the disparity in Dave's and Angelo's issue appearances was like rubbing rock salt into a swollen, festering open wound. We just hope there isn't a recurrence of the "72 incident in which no less than the Archbishop of New York and 17 firemen toting the "jaws of life" needed to be summoned to the MAD offices to break up the ugly fracas (on damp days, Torres still walks with a limp)! Oh, and here's one more little MAD milestone for you...this is Mike Slaubaugh's one and only appearance in MAD ever! Thanks for writing! —Ed.

ALFRED E-MAIL

I'm just typing to say that I absolutely love Duck Edwing's Ventriloquist Priest and I think there should be more than one in each MAD mag!

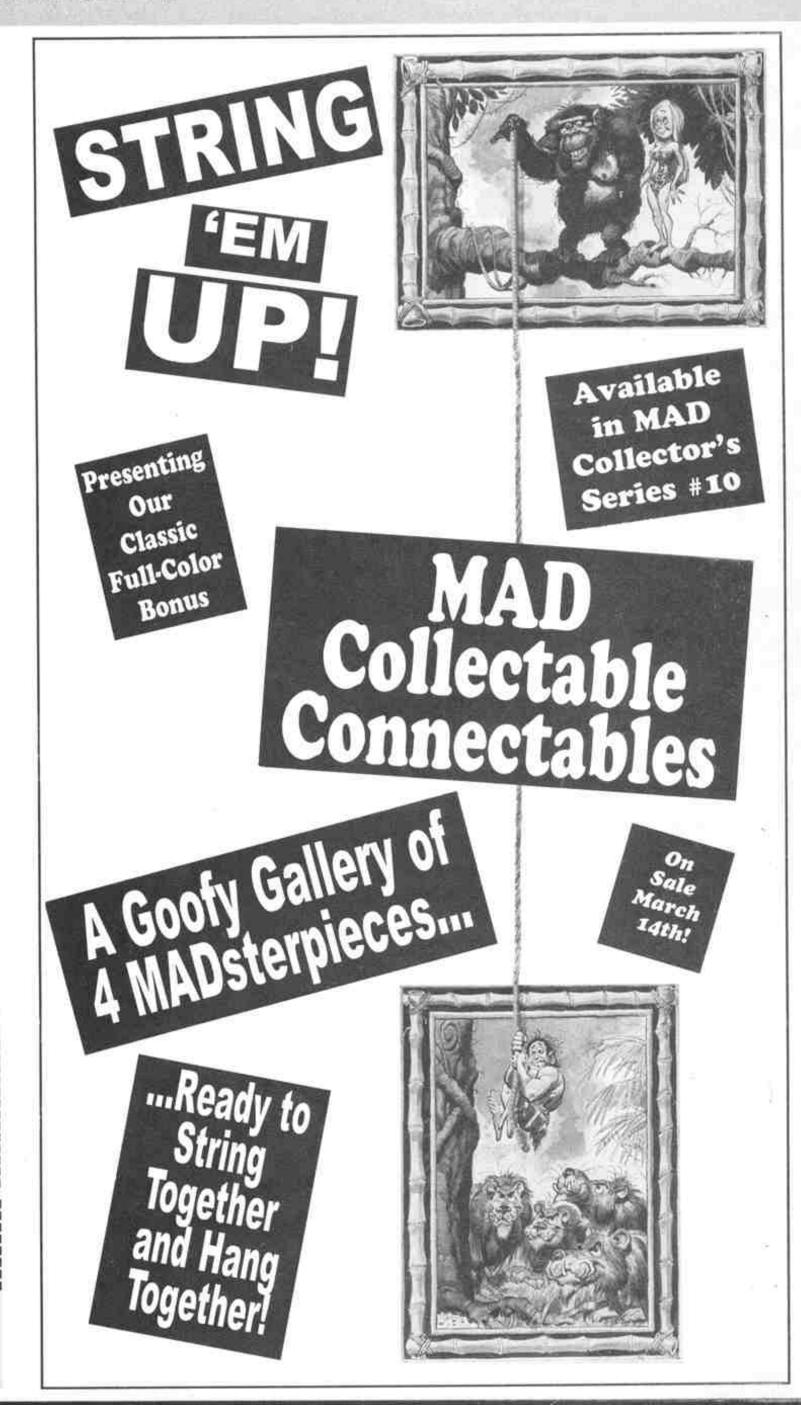

Lucas Buckler-Carey Woodstock, NY IWASME275@aol.com Ventriloquist Priest is the best new series since I started reading MAD (at issue #52, which I still have as well as all in between). Keep up the great work!

Chuck Lowe Allen, TX CLLOWE@sol.com

We also love the Ventriloquist Priest and would like to see more of him in action!

Lee Ott and Mike Ford LeeOtt@aol.com

We appreciate these thoughtful comments and are forwarding them to Rome, Italy in the hope they will have a positive effect on the Confluence of Cardinals meeting at the Vatican next month to vote on Duck Edwing's excommunication! —Ed.

A new film recently debuted which stars a legendary monster portrayed by a Hollywood leading man. Opening to rave reviews and big business at the box office, the film is long on gorey, bloody scenes juxtaposed against tender moments of love and human tragedy. Yeah, we can't wait to see Interview With the Vampire! We might even spoof it next issue! For now, here's our spoof of...

FRANKENSLIME

I am Vicgore Frankenslime!

If I have my way, a mother will never again die during child birth, like mine did!

My controversial plan calls for making the fathers pregnant! I also believe I can bring people back from the dead — which is good news for my patients since I'm a totally incompetent doctor!

Pay no attention to that fool
Frankenslime!
He still studies
the ravings of ancient medical lunatics! Here at the University of Indigent Medicine,
I teach my students
the ways of modern medical lunatics!

I'm Professor Wildman! I've abandoned my attempts to bring people back from the dead! My experiments had terrible consequences for mankind! Actually, I'm still trying to bring one patient back to life who died without paying a large medical bill — but only so he can settle the account! Then I'll quit the business for good!

I am Hernia,
Vicgore's fellow medical student! I'm not as advanced as him in my medical undertakings! He's trying to retrieve
people back from the dead! Me, I'm still trying to retrieve
my lab coat back from the laundry!

I'm Lizbit, an orphan raised by the Frankenslime family! Vicgore and I were raised like brother and sister! His father gave me advice like a Dutch Uncle! Now, Vicgore and I are like kissing cousins, unless we're fighting, then we're more like husband and wife! Frankly, I'm sick of relatives already, which is rare for an orphan!

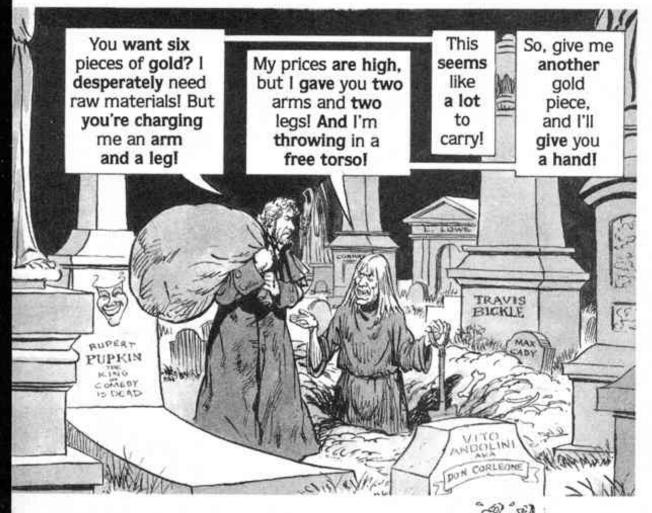

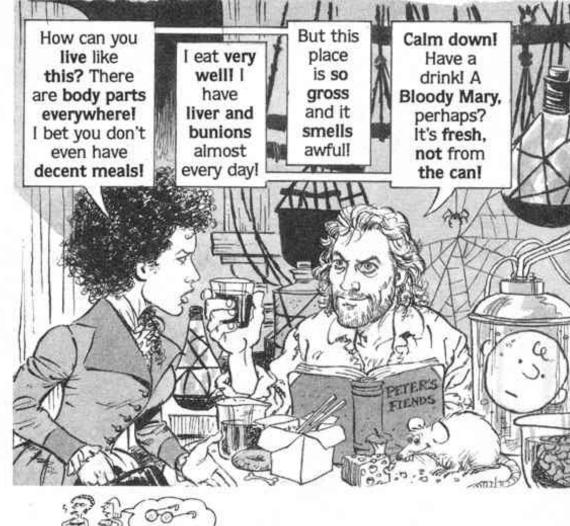

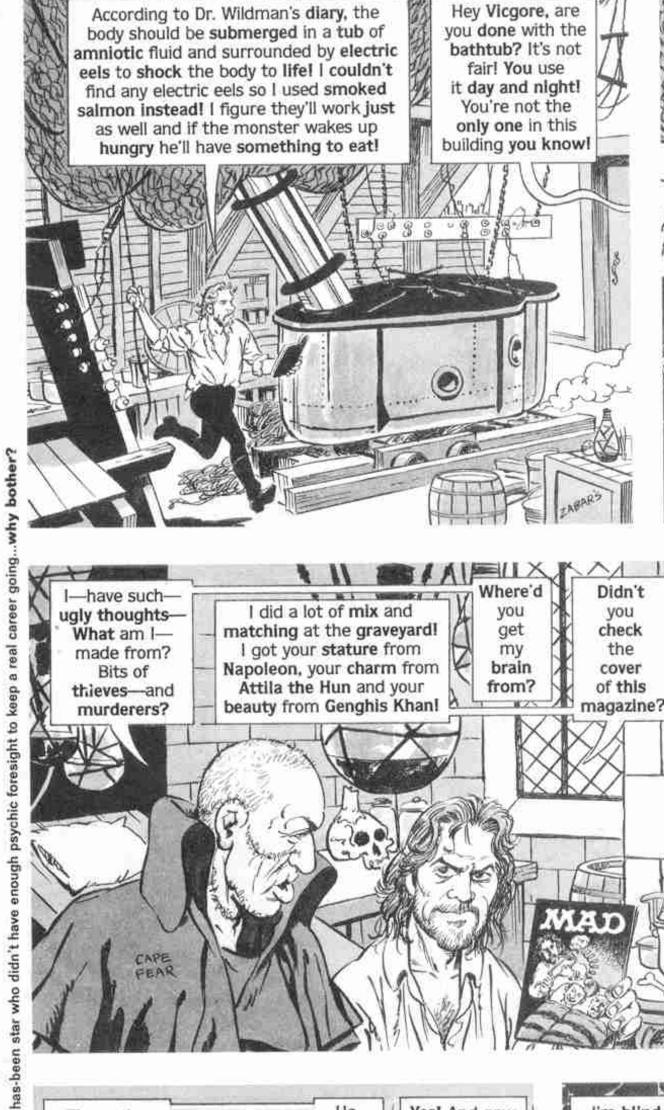

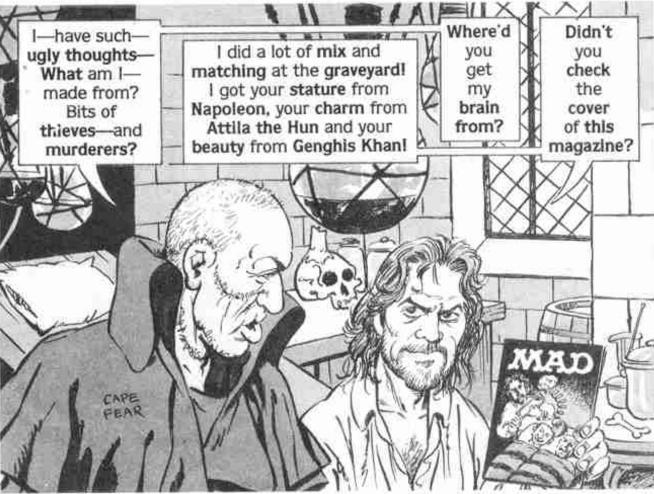

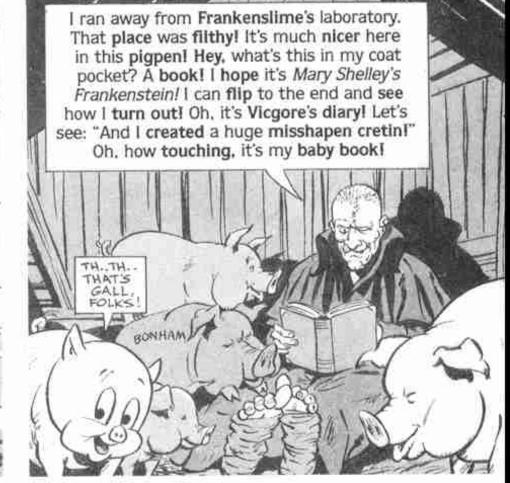

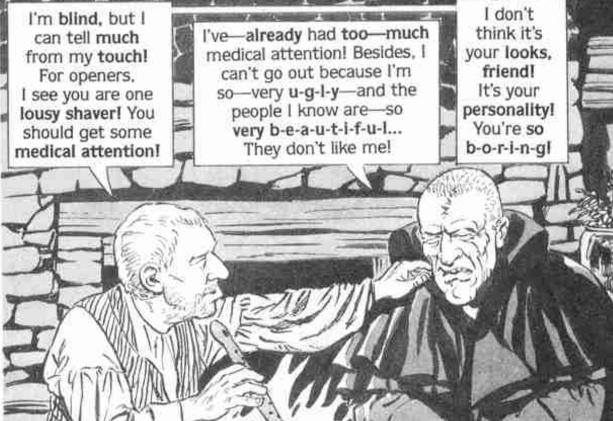

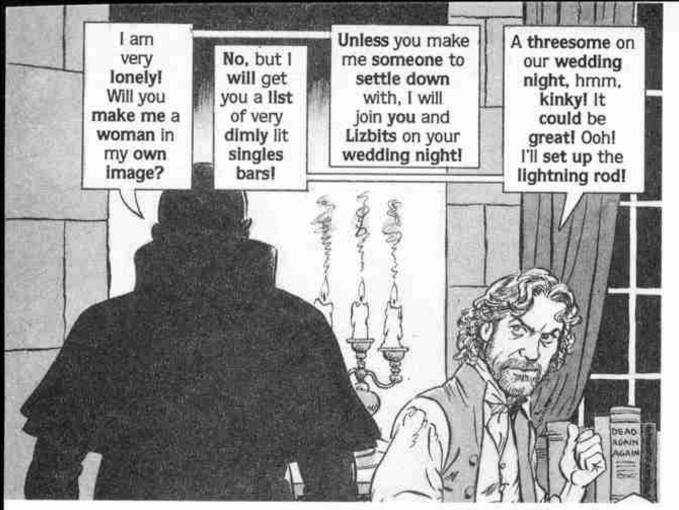

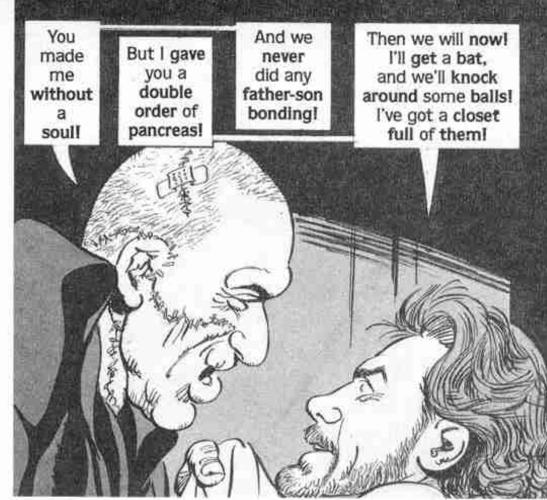

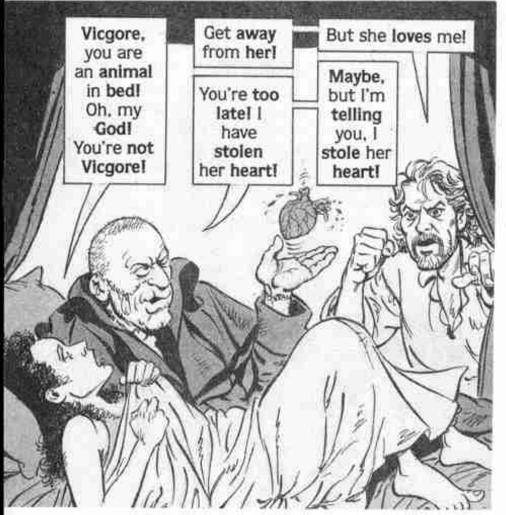

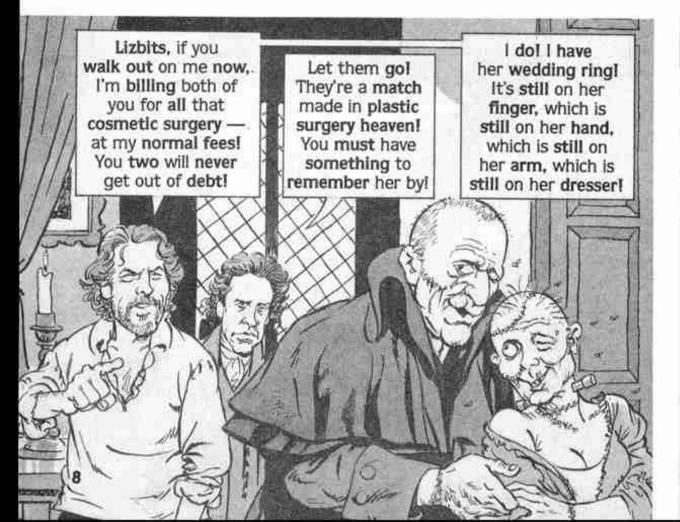

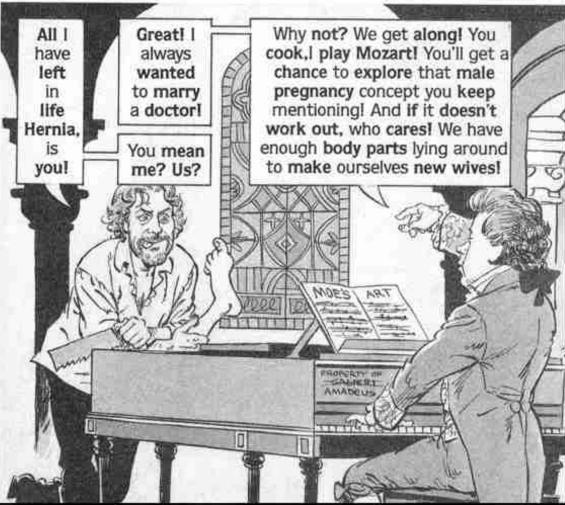

BETTOR PAY ATTENTION DEPT.

How To Pick LOTTERY MUMBERS The MAD Way

VCR OWNERS

The number of times you tape the wrong show in a one month period.

The number of times you've recorded a show and found out you screwed up and didn't tape the end of it.

The number of tapes you'll get around to watching, someday, when you have the time.

The number of unlabeled blank tapes you have to go through before finding the movie you're looking for.

The number of times you'll tape over a show you haven't seen yet because you have no more empty tapes.

The number of buttons on your remote you've never dared to touch.

State of the art double-hulled oil tankers, captained by state of the art boneheaded drunkards...why bother?

SUBWAY RIDERS

The number of times within an hour you'll check to see if your wallet is still there.

The number of minutes it takes for a train to arrive after you're told "there's a train directly behind this one."

The number of people in your car who haven't bathed since the Carter Administration.

The number of seats occupied by sleeping vagrants.

The number of times you'll reread the same ad for hemorrhoid cream while the train is stalled.

The number of times the doors open and close before the train actually takes off.

URBAN DWELLERS

The number of obituary pages you had to go through to find your apartment.

The number of strange people roaming around your building that you hope are your neighbors.

The number of palms you had to grease to actually get it.

The number of phony building improvements your landlord used last year as excuses 33 to jack up the rent.

The number of Chinese take-out menus in your lobby (in the thousands).

The number of locks on your front door.

OFFICE WORKERS

The number of collections for birthdays, graduations, funerals, etc., you're suckered into per week.

The number of phone calls you make per day that are totally unrelated to your job in any way.

The number of office supplies you've swiped this month.

The number of minutes before 5 PM that you begin to get ready to leave.

The number of minutes after nine you finally finish your coffee and get to work.

The number of dirty cartoons you photocopy and send around to your friends via inter-office mail per month.

COLLEGE STUDENTS

The number of hours before your final exam that you decide to start studying.

The number of professors who force you to buy books that they've vritten.

The number of easy or interesting courses that are filled up before you register.

The number of years you currently anticipate it will take you to complete 4 years of undergraduate work.

The number of times each semester that you wake up face down in a pool of warm beer.

The number of months it will take you to find a mediocre job upon graduation.

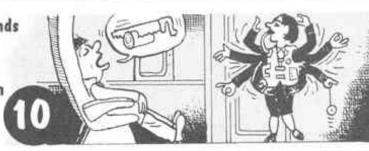

The number of times per minute the kid behind you kicks your seat.

The number of seconds you spend paying attention to the safety demonstration before completely tuning it out.

The number of stupid or useless facts the pilot announces during the flight (such as the temperature outside the plane).

WE ARE NOW ABOVE 363 V39XO P {{ T Q 39 m Δ 8/15 F x 2 → E~ m2? -256°F AND WILL BE 49€⇒⊙II C2P-60 65min AND 394% IN 897°N=0-40+%VX38F

The number of times you have to walk through the metal detector before you're asked to remove your belt.

The number of times you hear the phrase "slight delay."

The number of cigarettes a smoker has in the hour before boarding a no-smoking flight.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS

The number of "consultation bills" you receive from strangers in white pants who just dropped by to chat.

The number of seconds it takes for your visitors to stop talking to you and start watching your TV set.

The number of expensive items disallowed by your insurance company.

The number of shoddy, over-priced knick knacks purchased at the hospital gift store that you receive from friends during a typical stay.

The number of times your nurse has to jab your arm before adequately drawing blood.

The number of "close friends" who bother to come back to visit you a second time.

Trying to improve literacy in a country where the best selling books are by Rush Limbaugh and Howard Stern...why bother?

PEOPLE ON A FIRST DATE

you wonder what your date looks like naked.

The number of times you secretly check your hair, breath and armpits.

The number of hints you drop to assure your date that you're disease free. 36

The number of times you pretend that you're really fascinated by what your date is saying. 18

The number of times you run out of conversation.

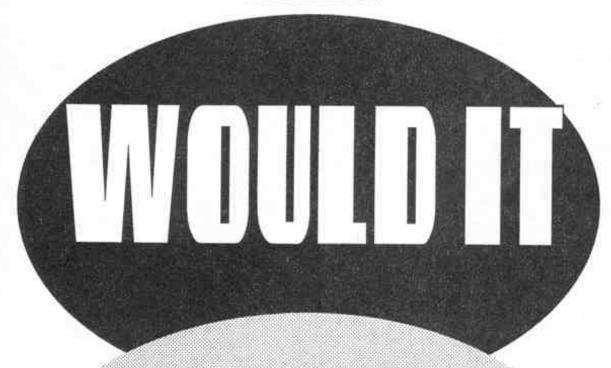

The number of times you consider telling your date you're going to the bathroom and then just sneaking away into the night.

Some questions perplex us 'til the day we die! What is the meaning of life? Why do men have nipples? Will the anti-incumbency fever sweeping the nation threaten the re-election of Mayor McCheese?

USscAir

Dear Travelers:

Safety is our highest priority — right after making sure each seat pocket has a barf bag. This is validated each and every day by the tens of thousands of people who fly our planes and leave our flights shaken, but alive.

Before a flight leaves the ground, mechanics in neat looking overalls using sophisticated tools like metric hammers inspect each plane for the tiniest defect. Do we need to replace that missing wing? Can we get four more landings out of those bald tires? Will that hole in the tail affect flying ability? These may seem like small questions to you, but they're important to us. We may not know the answers, but the questions are still important!

To prove that we ARE safe, we are investing an unprecedented $20 million in running these ads! Another $10,000 will go toward inspecting our fleet. For added safety a lucky four-leaf clover is now mandatory in every USscAir cockpit — even though FAA regulations don't require it!

Furthermore, we have asked a former commander in the U.S. Air Force to oversee our safety operations. He'll be arriving on the very next Amtrak train.

In closing, let me say that our timetables, fare charts and petty cash receipts are open for public inspection, along with every other company document, except of course, our maintenance records.

I would not hesitate to let any of my in-laws fly on USscAir, and I would proudly be there — to wave good-bye. Sincerela

One of the hottest trends in collectibles is the world of animation! Cartoons are created by drawing individual "cels" at a rate of 24 per second! Collectors love these pictures because every drawing is just a little different than any other. But wait a minute – how different are they really? Aren't there hundreds of Bugs Bunny eating a carrot, of Scooby-Doo running from a ghost, of the Little Mermaid swimming? It's obvious that if you want to do this collecting thing properly, you have to look for those unique, one-of-a-kind items that truly stand out. And a good place to start is with this buyers' guide to . . .

ROBOTMAN

This pre-programmed character is the guy who systematically asks all 175 professionals at the con where they "get their great ideas."

DR. DOOM

This deluded fiend relentlessly accuses every artist he meets of ripping him off because of the "incredible similarities" between their professionally drawn characters and the stick figure scribbles he sent around to comic book companies years ago.

THE WATCHER

This truly scary individual takes a position exactly 42 feet across from his favorite artist, and stares with unblinking bug eyes for the next four hours.

MISTER MIRACLE

This one-of-a-kind convention favorite is the guy who has actually been with a woman.

PLASTIC MAN

POCTOR OCTOPUS

This unstoppable fiend won't quit until he has grabbed up every bit of free stuff he can physically hoist away.

THE VULTURE

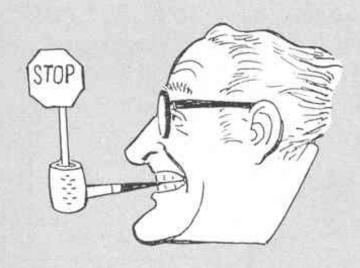

THIS

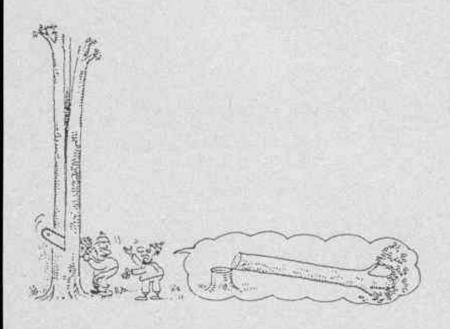

When a hot artist finally leaves his table, this scary creature swoops down immediately, hoping for unfinished sketches, dried-up pens, crumpled coffee cups, or any other valuable loot that was left behind.

LUXURY

GUIDANCE

It's a beautiful day and our son is staying indoors playing with that stupid video game!

Tell him to go outside and play like a normal kid! Why are you suddenly so interested in what our son does?

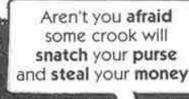

Because I want to play with that stupid video game!

CRIME

No! I carry pepper spray, a sonic alarm and a hand gun in my purse!

HERE WE GO WITH ANOTHER RIDICULOUS D FOL

The American public was promised a new Universal Health Care Plan that would enable everyone to receive the proper medical care they so badly need. Unfortunately, the plan has been scrubbed for the time being. To find out what people can do now to get help they need, fold page in as shown.
